The Challenge

Building a thriving business with limited Internet access for employees was proving to be a challenge for Tom. In fact, it was starting to limit growth. Customers expect direct email contact. Employees need access to competitors websites. IT systems need to be updated on a routine basis. But the horror stories abound about how Internet access for the untrained user can spell disaster.

Tom called in NDS for their no-charge assessment. He was impressed with their no-nonsense approach to business protection and their focus on business continuity.

The Solution

It was this approach that convinced him to trust NDS with his company security. The BSK", Business Survival Kit, had the components that he knew would allow his company to survive, and thrive, in the global economy.

The Firewall blocks porn, gambling, eBay, IM, news feeds, etc. At the same time, however, employees will still have access to all resources needed for business-related activities.

Killing SPAM won't save you money directly. But think about how much time you waste weeding through a mountain of bad mail, while potentially missing the email with important information. You could make better use of your time. You are the rainmaker. And time, like they say, is money.

By backing up your files as they are saved, and sending them offsite to your encrypted data store, your business can quickly return to operation if there is a disaster. We have learned that these disasters can be caused by nature or man, and they can happen at any time. You are no longer a slave to a magnetic tape, or you don't have to worry about remembering to insert a new tape. If an employee accidentally deletes a file or folder, it is restored in a matter of minutes.

Your server is "imaged" to a removable hard drive that we provide, the hard drive is stored in your safety deposit box. In case of a declared disaster, we can restore your server in a matter of hours instead of weeks.

Are viruses real, or is it a hoax? You could ask John, who lost his main credit card processing server to a virus. He couldn't collect the revenue that he needed for three days. Keeping you safe from these attacks is our business.

Did you know that you have to notify employees that you are monitoring their Internet use? You have to advise them that you regularly monitor and inspect all activity on your network. Without doing this, you are open for employee action. We provide a customized use policy that you incorporate into your Employee Manual.

Monitoring your firewall and your server 24x7.

This is better than having your own IT staff because an expert is always looking out for your interests. We can see all attempts to try to penetrate your defenses. We will know if your server is running low on disk space, if a drive fails, or if the server is running out of gas. In fact, we monitor for over 1500 events. This gives you a marked advantage by allowing you to correct problems before they impact your bottom line.

The Benefits

To benefit from the positive aspects of technology Tom had to protect his company from the negative aspects. The BSK", allow Tom peace-of-mind. Now he can focus his energy on using technology to further his company business goals.

“NDS is a full service technology partner that we can rely on to keep us moving forward, while at the same time keeping us from making any mistakes.”
